

SEVEN THINGS I'VE LEARNED MANAGING PEOPLE

By Michael Rome

- 1. RE: APPLICANTS: Beware of High Confidence & Charisma
- 2. RE: APPLICANTS: A Little Low Self-Esteem Can Be A Good Thing.
- 3. Everyone Seems Normal At First.
- 4. People Are More Attached To Their Personal Psychology Than They Are To Being Happy And Successful.
- 5. When Advancement Outpaces Self-Esteem, People Will Find Ways To Self-Destruct While Blaming Others.
- 6. Some Would Rather Put As Much Energy Into Avoiding Work As It Would Take To Do A Good Job.
- 7. A Functional Work Environment is Intolerable to a Dysfunctional Employee.
